CSI has been serving the society by creating awareness on computers, IT, software, hardware applications etc., This program was aimed at introducing the basic applications of computers and its advantages to the unexposed sections of the society. We were able to motivate & train around 50 candidates from nearby villages. The participants were extremely happy in being part of such a rare and educative program. They had learnt to send a mail, type a letter in MS.Doc and also visit certain websites. Our correspondent's main objective was to reach out to people and educate them and through CSI, we were able to repay what the society had done for us.
